

JOIN THE GRI COMMUNITY

GLOBAL CATALYST FOR SUSTAINABLE CHANGE

The GRI Community is a catalyst for transparency; it's a learning-exchange space where experience and expertise come together helping participants make competitive choices; it's the launchpad for local and global leaders to share their success stories; the powerhouse where collective impact in sustainable development starts to become real and grow.

Is your organization a future sustainability leader interested in leading with transparency and create tangible improvements and impacts to benefit your own business and its ecosystem?

Transparency can break barriers and reveal connections and opportunities previously not visible. Each year hundreds of organizations globally commit to leading with transparency with the GRI Community.

"Our community members not only drive improvements within their own businesses; they also serve as true role models for the wider business community. Moreover, they support GRI's efforts to continue driving sustainability considerations into the heart of businesses' and governmental decision making"

Tim Mohin, GRI Chief Executive
