

Business Leadership Forum partners

“Prysmian Group has joined the Business Leadership Forum because we are committed to achieving ESG targets based on the SDGs, while we support global efforts by companies to provide transparency to stakeholders. I believe that a single set of criteria for reporting impacts, as enabled by the GRI Standards, is an important tool to fight climate change, monitor progress on diversity and inclusion, and assess community impact.”

Lorenzo Caruso, Vice President External Relations and Sustainability Reporting, Prysmian Group

“At Fujitsu, our purpose is to ‘make the world more sustainable by building trust in society through innovation’ and the SDGs are the integral targets and pathways for achieving this. Working in partnership with follow leaders in GRI’s Business Leadership Forum will allow us to better understand stakeholder needs, ensure best practice sustainability reporting and deliver outcomes that help shape a more sustainable society and planet.”

Takafumi Ikuta, Head of Corporate Purpose Activation Office, Fujitsu

“As a pioneer in ESG integration for over two decades, and sustainability reporting since 2008, CDL looks forward to sharing insights and learning from peers and experts to enhance our SDG alignment and communication with our stakeholders. Since 2016, we have embraced SDGs in our sustainability strategy, helping us assess risks and opportunities to future-proof our business. CDL is therefore glad to support the GRI Business Leadership Forum and its aims to accelerate corporate ambitions to achieve the SDGs.”

Esther An, Chief Sustainability Officer of City Developments Limited (CDL)

“We strongly believe that collaboration and knowledge sharing is crucial in order to define a common ground and set clear targets to address the SDGs, tracking progress on value created for companies and their stakeholders. We see GRI’s Business Leadership Forum as an excellent opportunity to connect with stakeholders, to better understand how to meet their needs and provide comparable and accessible SDG data that informs investor and government decision-making processes.”

Giulia Genuardi, Head of Sustainability Planning & Performance Management and Human Rights, Enel SpA